

Press Note from the Chief Editor Speak

Volume 4, Issue 2 (May to August 2026)

Smt. A. J. Savla Homoeopathic National Journal

Dear Esteemed Readers,

It gives me immense pleasure to welcome you to another issue of the A. J. Savla Homoeopathic National Journal.

With every issue, our journal continues its journey towards promoting academic excellence, research, clinical learning and exchange of knowledge in Homoeopathy. The enthusiastic contributions of our faculty members, postgraduate scholars and students reflect their dedication to learning and research.

I believe that continued research, careful clinical observation and meaningful academic discussion are essential for strengthening Homoeopathic education and practice. I encourage our young scholars and faculty members to continue exploring new ideas and sharing their valuable experiences through this platform.

I sincerely thank all the authors, reviewers, editorial team and readers for their valuable support and contribution.

Wishing you all an enriching and delightful reading experience.

With warm regards,

Dr. Yashvant P. Patel

Principal & Chief Editor
